

Windstream Wholesale and Telinta Team Up to Offer DID Solutions to VoIP Service Providers

- VoIP service providers can access Windstream Wholesale’s high-quality DID service directly from Telinta’s hosted softswitch platform.
- Both companies offer special sign-up promotion for new customers.

SPRINGFIELD, NJ (May 15, 2017) Telinta, a global leader in cloud-based VoIP switching and billing solutions, and Windstream, a leading provider of advanced network solutions, today announced that Windstream Wholesale’s DID services will be available directly from Telinta’s hosted softswitch platform.

VoIP Origination, such as Direct Inward Dialing (DID), is a SIP-based service and a vital component in local phone numbers needed for Hosted PBX, SIP Trunking, Mobile VoIP, Calling Card, Pinless and other services provided via Telinta’s hosted switching and billing platform. Telinta customers who become new Windstream DID customers may qualify for a special sign-up promotion. Windstream Wholesale service provider customers who initiate new service with Telinta will receive a $400 credit towards their monthly usage fees from Telinta.

“Windstream Wholesale’s high-quality DID services are the perfect complement to Telinta’s hosted softswitch platform,” said John Nishimoto, vice president of business development for Windstream’s Wholesale business unit. “We look forward to helping Telinta customers grow their business via our first-class, reliable VoIP Origination solutions.”

“We are happy to work with a leader like Windstream Wholesale, since we understand how important high quality VoIP Origination is for our customers,” said Alex Ferdman, CEO of Telinta. “Telinta has built an impressive ecosystem of industry-leading partners, so that our customers can benefit.”

VoIP service providers can access Windstream Wholesale’s DID services directly via Telinta’s hosted switching and billing platform. TeliCore™ is Telinta’s carrier-grade Class 4 and Class 5 softswitch platform, integrating Telinta’s cutting-edge VoIP solutions with world-class Switching and Billing capabilities.
