

Yahoo! chooses BIG for Trans-Pacific Subsea Connectivity

May 11, 2017 11:00 AM UTC

Brunei International Gateway (BIG) is delighted to have been chosen recently as a key communications service provider to Yahoo! Inc. for their high-bandwidth Asia Pacific requirements. BIG is immensely proud to join the ranks of distinguished service providers supporting Yahoo! global network business objectives and BIG looks forward to greater cooperation with Yahoo! providing cost effective communications solutions coupled with a flexible, responsive approach to help Yahoo! deliver on its critical business objectives in Asia.

“It was a great pleasure to work with BIG team who is extremely responsive and pleasant to work with,” said Mehmet Akcin Director of Global Infrastructure Planning and Acquisitions Group of Yahoo!.

Steve Stretch, CEO of BIG, confirmed the strong and effective working relationship between BIG and Yahoo saying “The Yahoo! global network infrastructure team demonstrated exceptional attention to detail for diversity in their connectivity requirements, true to their passion to keep people connected.”
